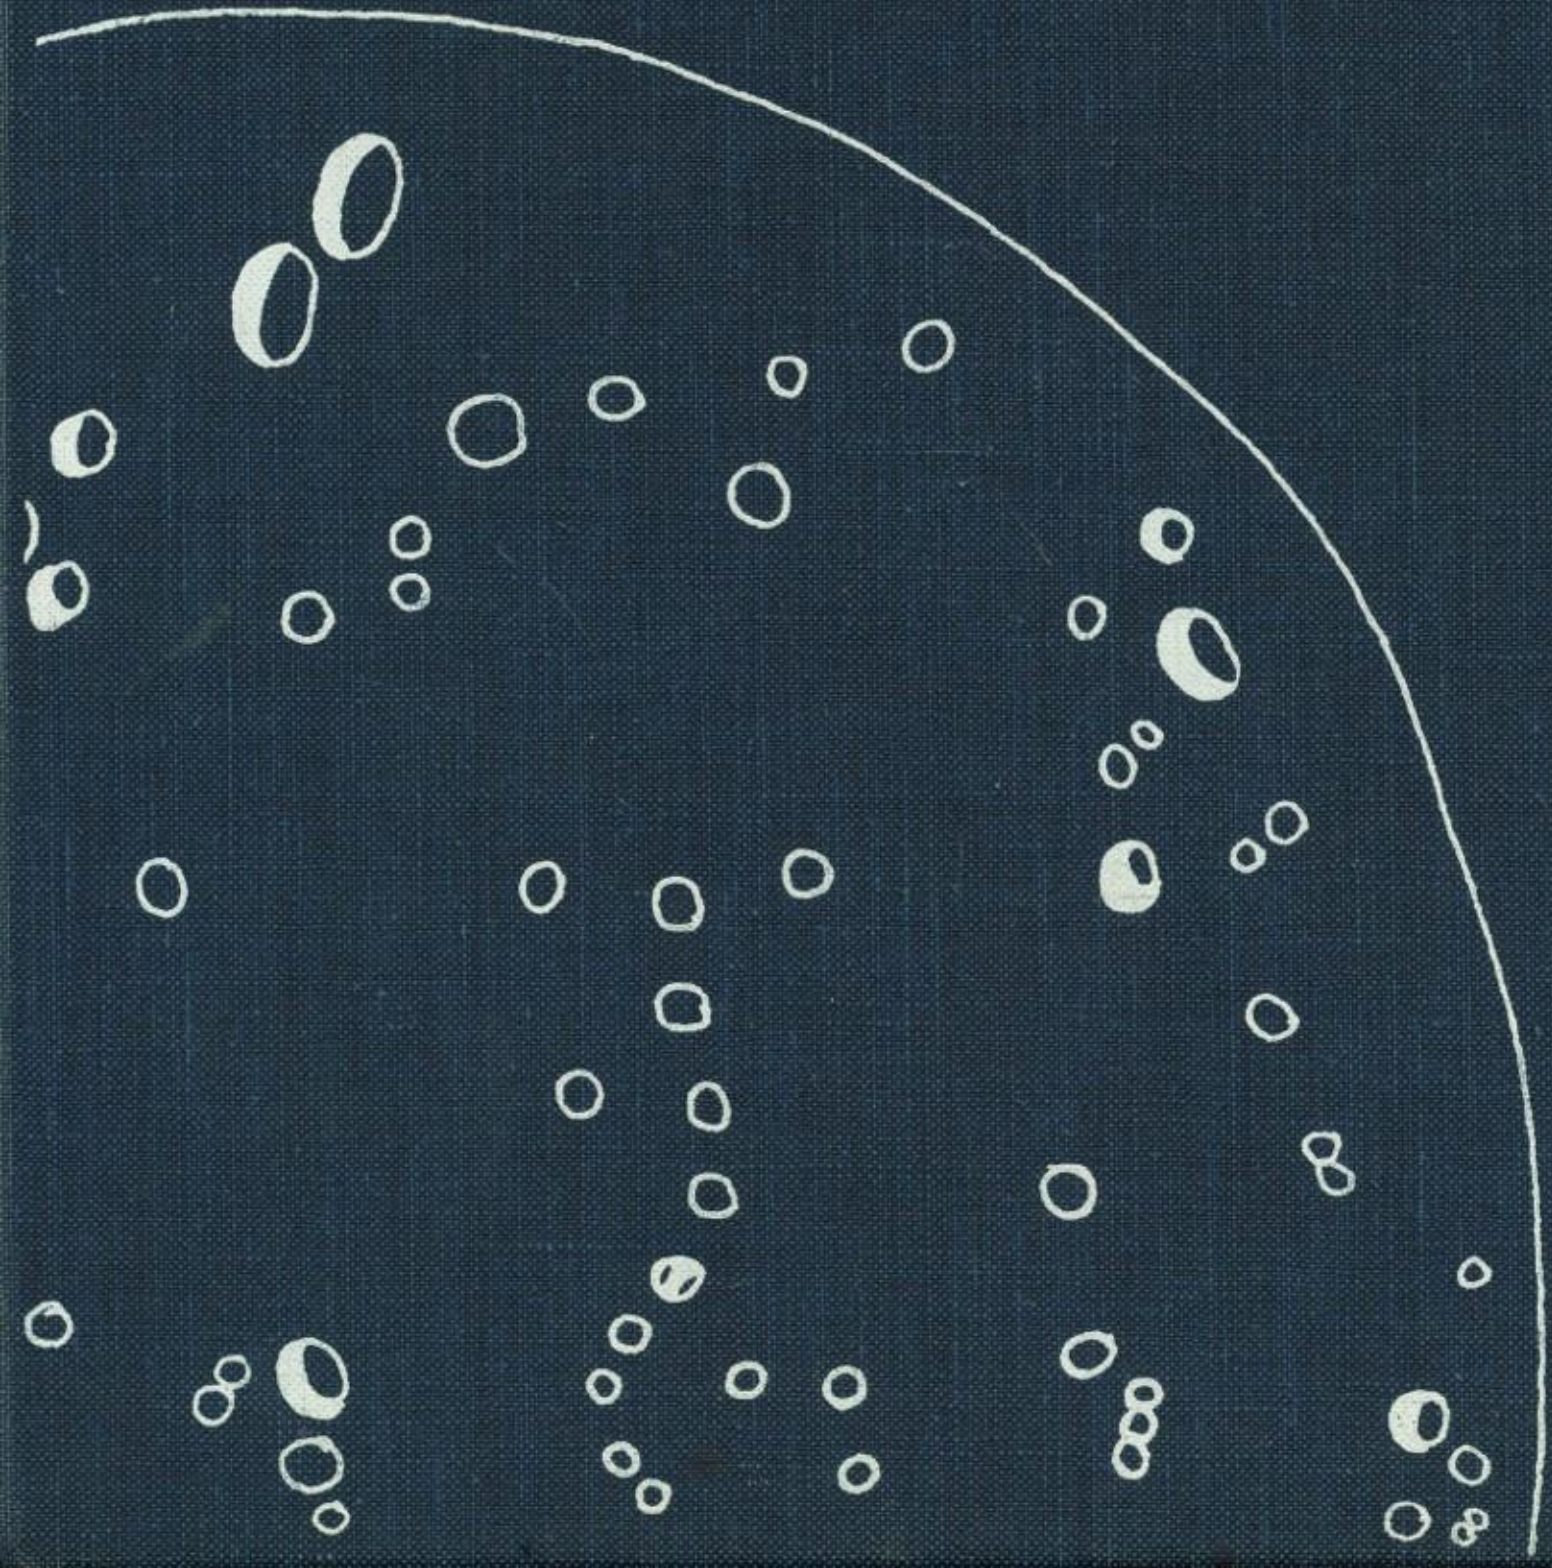
HIGHLANDER



Mary Beth, Remember all the things we did and I mean "all." Don't forget especially the great times (to me at least) with D. & S. How can we forgit. Remember Devan Park? And what about Greg's rug? I was so embarassed. Remember all the swim meets and dances on Thurs nites. And how about the nite you called me back after you and Bob had left. Am I glad thats over. Remember how during the summer I didnt see you for a long time and the next thing I knew it was up to 13? (a time) Mines still at 3. If it wasnt for "Greek" time it would only be 2. Remeber when we loved riding around in the blue "L. T. D." and how mad we'd get when they were with other people. How can you forget our "fits" and stomping? Don't forget our "rallies" and the airplane song. Mostly don't forget me. A lot sure has happened since could have happened if we hadn't and still arent best freinds (I hope we always are.) Remember me always.

Terry.

Ann Harding

P.S. Don't forget the little frequent problems" we had together if you know what I mean

Remember the Parties of Pathos - Remember the Psychedelic Caps
BLAH BLAH BLAH. Now I'll tell the truth. Remember all our "parties" How did we ever survive? Remember
Mrs. Side? All the other dudes? How about Pimp? Ears?
Dracula? Blackula? Wapula? Pimpula? Earsula?
UMSUCA! Oui, oui Mademoselle! Parlez vous Francais
Non non, Mademoiselle, je ne comprends pas!

Remember the mud at 1518? The dig. Burns in my clothes? Our hats and gloves? Oh man, I could go on forever. Remember the Airplane song? Machine guns?
Orangutangs? MAMA!

Hey, remember playing poker over in the basement; and then weirdo Brunson coming in? Most of all, remember the "bushy haired kid with wire glasses about her hight"? You bet! Remember Wally?
MOST of all remember all the screwed up things we did? Hey, remember the day I had my car and we watched those guys from St. Cath. play Basket ball"? HA HA boaled them, man. I'm running out of room, Jack HARDING

The baleful beep of the Sputnik which was heard in every land, every hour, on the hour was the beginning of the space-race. And as Sputnik was the beginning of the space program's influence on the world, so are we beginning our quest for knowledge so that we may take our place on the earth.

Life becomes an enthralling and breathless voyage of discovery. Its possession is the great distinction between youth and age. Youth is past when the sensation of adventure is ended, when instead of boundless expectation and of curiosity that penetrates into all the corners of existence, a man is content to take things as they are. The man devoid of curiosity is the man who in the end attains nothing.

Stars have too long been symbols of the unattainable. They should not be so. For although our physical hands cannot reach them, we can touch them in other ways. STUDENT LIFE

"A Prom for All Seasons"

On the Spring evening of April 23, 1971, the Junior Prom was held at the Sheraton-Gibson Roof Gardens. After weeks of planning and hard work led by class president, Chuck Heilman and committee chairmen — Nancy Messmer, Lori Hoffman, Barbara Zai, Janet Luker, Cindy Stephens, Steve Pendery, and Denise Lawrence — the ballroom was set for "A Prom For All Seasons".

The throne which represented Spring was centered around a fountain from which eight strands of flowers were draped. Bobby Keys and his orchestra provided the music from the bandstand which was decorated as a Winter scene. Picture corner represented a Summer evening by two lighted lamp posts around an old-fashioned foot bridge while table decorations were arrangements of candles and flowers representing all four seasons. The most memorable decoration was the beautiful silhouettes of the court on the entrance mirror. It was truly a night to remember.

National Honor Society Reorganizes

In past years membership in the National Honor Society was chosen strictly on the basis of scholastic achievement. This year membership requirements were extended to include: character, leadership qualities, and outside projects. While present Seniors were chosen on the old academic basis, the Juniors are the first class to come under the new system. Applications were sent out to 37 Juniors who qualified academically by having a 2.8 grade average and having not had a "D", of which 20 were selected for membership.

"It's Academic" Team Selected

Early in the spring last year, tryouts were held at Courter Tech High School to select the members of the "It's Academic" team for 1971-1972. After a few weeks of deliberation, it was announced by sponsor, Miss Hazel Girvin, that the team consisted of: Steve Pendery (captain), Mark Sapsford, Lynn Honey and Jim Gunn (alternate).

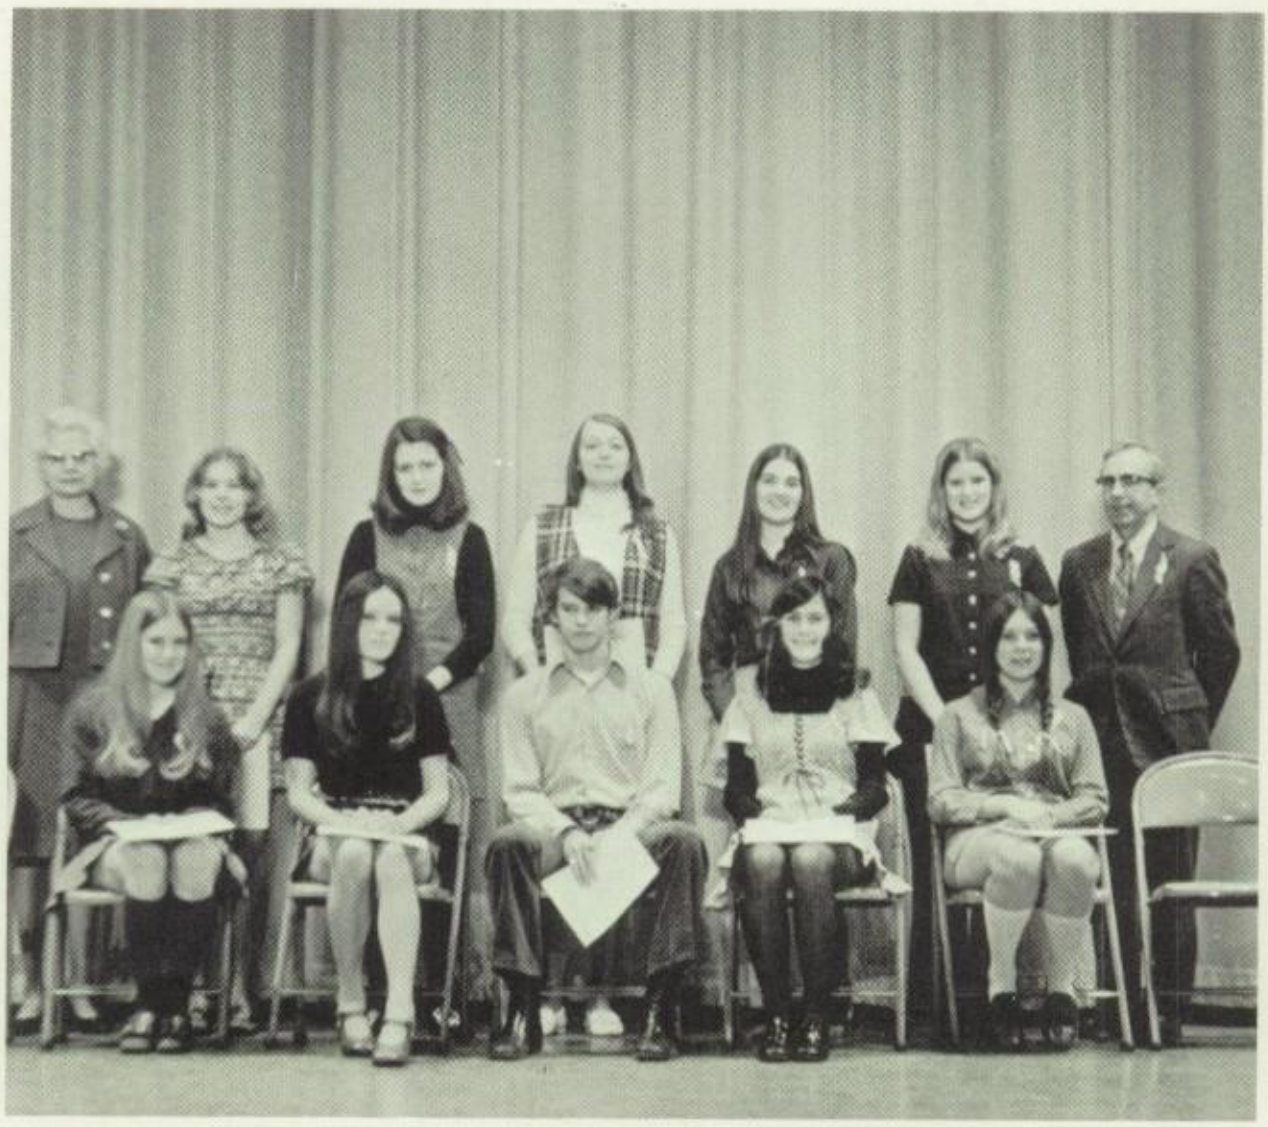
Cum Laude Society Introduced

This year Highlands became the first public school in Kentucky to be elected into the National Cum Laude Society. Only one other high school in Kentucky, Louisville Country Day, holds a charter in the society. Approximately 275 schools throughout the country hold charters, only 17 of which are public schools.

The Cum Laude Society was founded in 1906 at the Tome School, Maryland, by Doctor Abram Harris. The organization holds recognition of scholarship as its fundamental objective.

Selection of members is based on academic standing. To become a member of the Cum Laude Society, a student must have a cumulative average of 3.6 or better and must have attended Highlands for at least two years. Faculty members maintain the right of review, which means additional requirements for membership may be added.

On Wednesday March 22, 1972, the initiation ceremony was held in Highlands' Auditorium. Each member was called to the stage and awarded certificates and pins of membership. Those honored were (lower right) Row 1: Melody Thompson, Janet Shanks, Steve Pendery, Rhonda Wiggins, Kathy Wright. Row 2: Lori Hoffman, Cindy Neff, Marianne Mason, Mary Jane Hubbard, Janet Luker, and Mr. Gschwind.



"Reflections" of Homecoming

On Saturday, October 16, 1971, the Homecoming Dance "Reflections", was held in the cafeteria. The candidates (lower picture), Sue Hunter, Connie Haas, Caren Cline, Pam Torline, Kathy Wright, and (seated) Bobbie McNorgan were presented at the half-time of the Dixie Heights game. At the dance, Bobbie McNorgan was crowned queen, after which she and her escort, Bill Tolle led in a dance to "Hey Jude" played by the "Soul Experience".

Highlands Presents 'Dixie Varieties'

"Dixie Varieties" was another successful presentation in the long line of Highlands' bi-annual variety shows. Music and laughter filled the auditorium from March 18-22, as a multi-talented cast of students presented the 1972 Variety Show. Led by Mr. Robert Knauf and Mr. John Black, the cast of over two hundred was organized into a presentation of acts and skits based on the "good ole' south." Mr. Larry Wofford and his art classes designed and did the work on the set. A dedicated make-up committee and stage crew also accounted for the show's success.

Senior Chorus Presents Numerous Programs

The Senior Chorus started the year once again with the annual Parent's Night concert. Among the selections was an excerpt from the Honnegger "Christmas Cantata." The entire Honnegger piece was performed at Music Hall on December 18, with the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra.

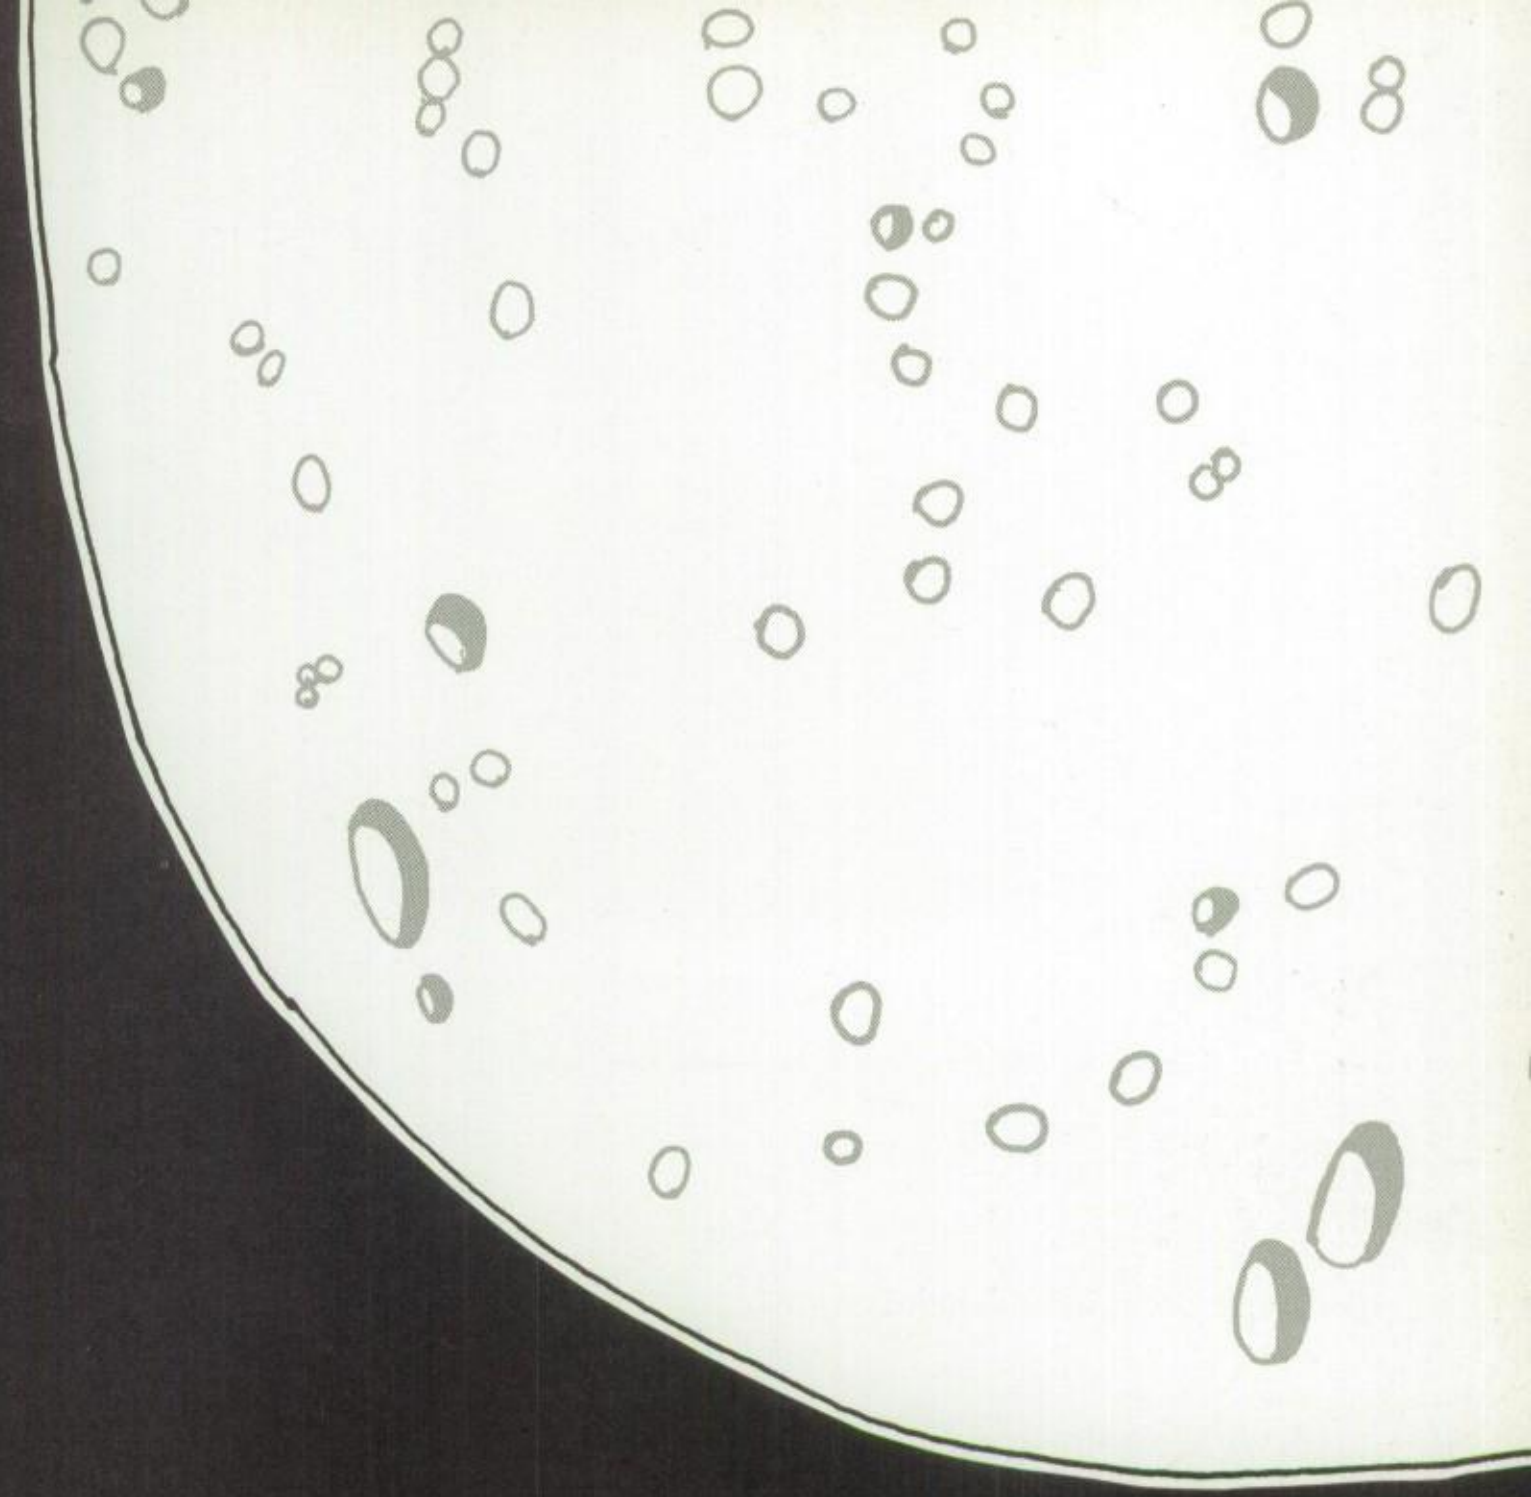
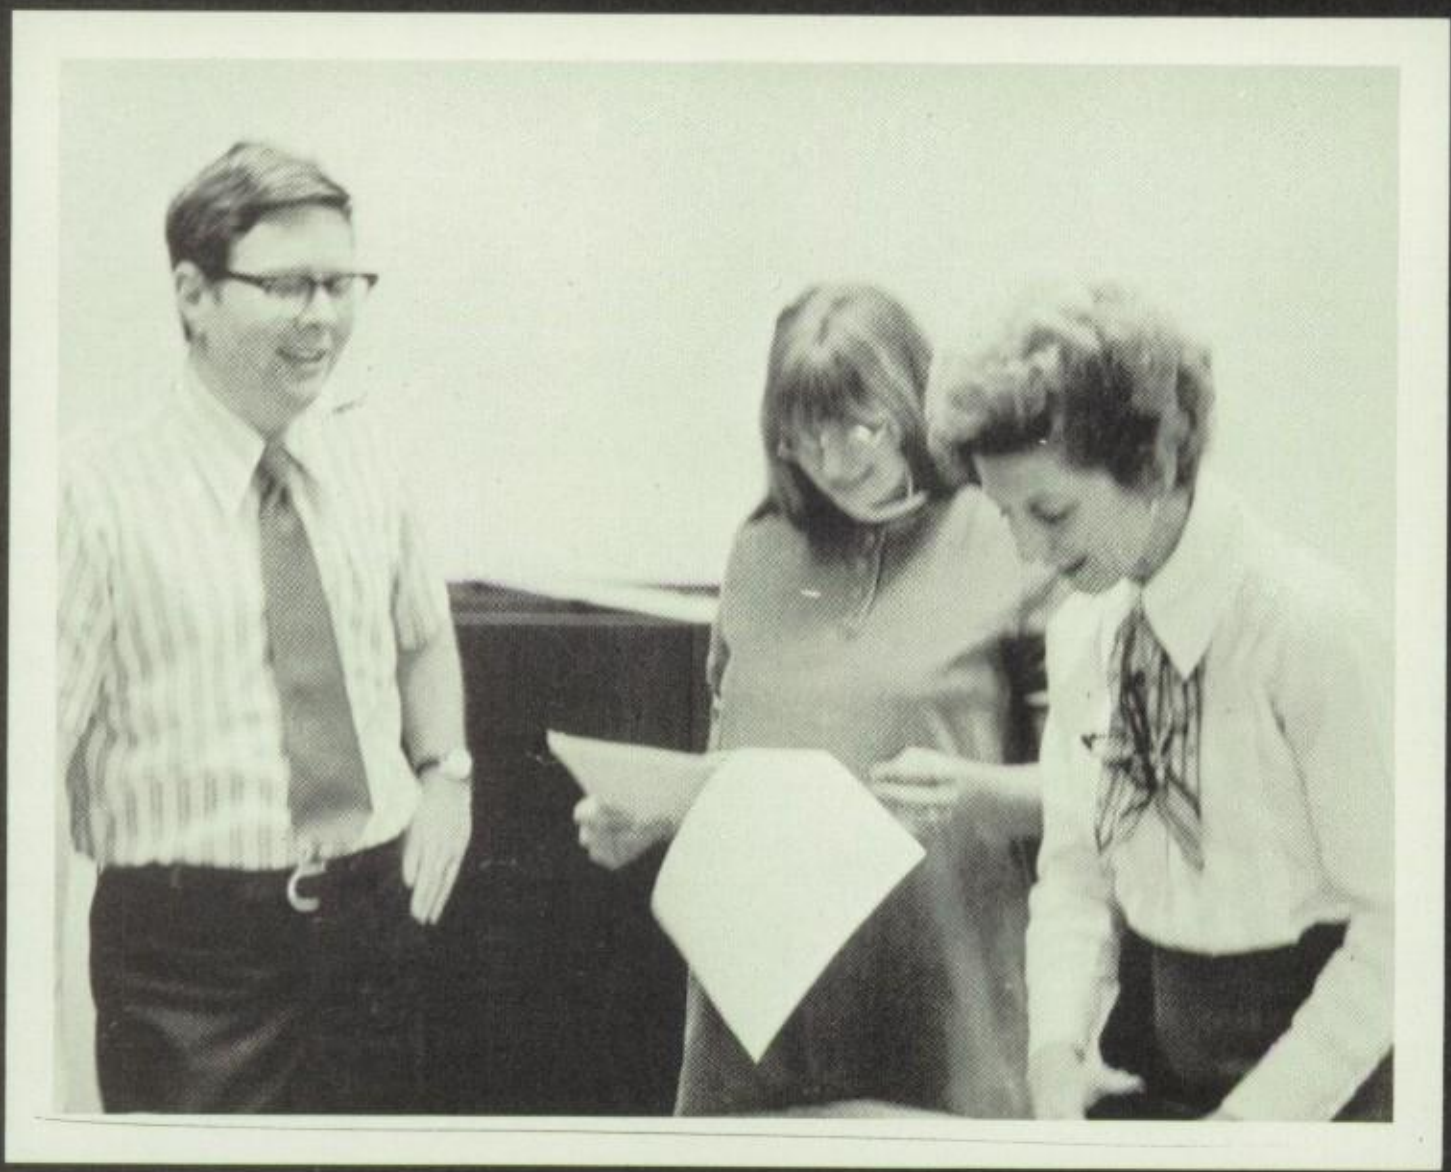
DEDICATION

Because of her gesticulations and quotations that made lasting impressions, because of the commanding respect she instilled, because of the self-discipline she taught us, and because of her outstanding ability as a teacher we dedicate the 1972 HIGHLANDER to Miss Jean Porter.





FACULTY

Board of Education Supervises School Programs

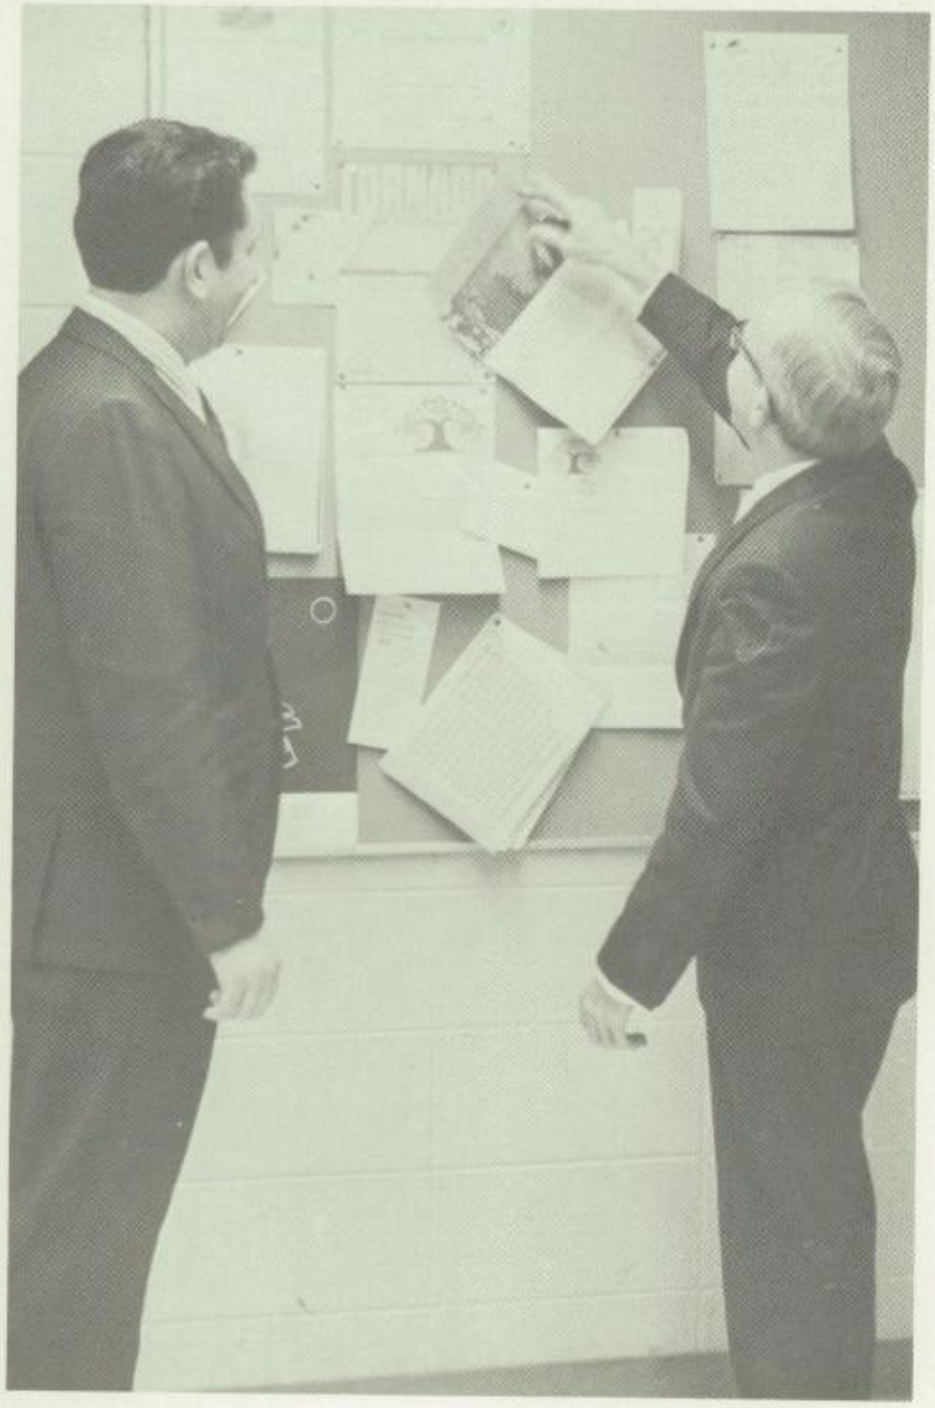
As Houston monitors the astronauts so the Board of Education and faculty monitor the students of Highlands. The Board of Education supervises the facilities of all levels of schooling in Fort Thomas. The Board is also responsible for the handling of school policies, finances, legal affairs, and the hiring of personnel. Their major project just completed was the building programs at Highlands and the three elementary schools. Mr. Harold Miller, the superintendent, serves as the agent of the Board of Education in dealing with the principals and faculty.

Mrs. Marjorie Templeton is the Director of Pupil Personnel.

Mrs. Marjorie Templeton and Mr. Harold Miller look over the attendance records for the Fort Thomas School System.

Administrators Guide Students and Faculty

Mr. Gschwind and Mr. Turner prepare to make another announcement.



Mr. Robert Gschwind, principal of Highlands, performs many duties never known to students. He works with the department chairmen and the superintendent in setting up changes within the departments. He works with the counselors in making master schedules. He approves all student schedules and makes all faculty assignments.

Mr. Chester Turner, vice-principal, works with disciplinary problems. He also lends a kind ear to students and teachers in problems they encounter. He assists the principal in dealing with complaints of the parents and citizens of Fort Thomas.

Mr. Gschwind discusses with Mr. Turner some of the posters on the bulletin board.

Counselors Help Students With Important Decisions

There are three counselors this year and each one works with separate groups of students. Miss Marion Riggs deals with junior high students while Mr. Mike Murphy works with freshmen and sophomores. Mrs. Betty Anderson counsels all juniors and seniors. Most all the work of the counselors concerns scheduling and placing students in various courses. Other jobs include guiding students in decisions about future plans and in helping students with personal problems.

Mrs. Anderson and Mr. Murphy confer together on many student problems.

Mrs. Marilyn Adams works as speech therapist at Highlands and at the elementary schools.

As school nurse, Mrs. Elaine Bell takes care of the many health requirements of Highlands' students.

The secretaries, Mrs. June Prince, Mrs. Claudia Horner, and Mrs. Sue Maddox, perform many important jobs necessary to operate the school.

Highlands Acquires New Resource Center

Last year students watched in amazement as a new resource center complex was slowly built. This year was the first full year of its use. The resource center has one large main floor and a second floor balcony. The main floor contains the check-out desk and most of the books. A visual aids room, where all filmstrips available for students to view in the study corrals, is located here. The complex also has a classroom for teachers to bring entire classes to do reference work. A new machine which many students found helpful is the Xerox copying machine.

Mrs. Ann Price, Miss Brenda Musser, Miss Rowena Carpenter, and Mrs. Selma Kaltenbach assist students in reference work, both in books and visual aids. Here they pause to look at one of the new books added to the library collection this year.

Math Department Moves Together

The Math Department was moved to the third floor of the Senior Building this year so that teachers could discuss any problems, team teach, and better use the math library, which is located in this area. At the junior high level much work is done in individualized instruction. Algerbra I is offered to freshmen, geometry to sophomores, algebra II to juniors. Trigonometry, probability and statistics, one semester courses, are offered to juniors and seniors.

Math teachers listen to Mr. Johnson in faculty meeting.

Science Department Gains New Biology Complex

After Christmas, the biology complex was completed and ready for use. It contained a lecture room for Mrs. Haggard's biology classes and a lab room for all biology teachers. Another area of science taught at Highlands is physical science. This is taught to ninth graders by Mr. McCane. His classes took several field trips this year. Chemistry and physics are offered to juniors and seniors and are taught by Mr. Elliot.

Languages Form Large Part of Highlands' Curriculum

English is one of the few courses required at all grade levels for graduation. From seventh through tenth grades, students study a combination of literature and grammar. Juniors study American literature, while seniors study English literature. In ninth through eleventh grades, students may choose between regular and advanced English. Seniors also get this same chance, or they can take business English if they plan to go into the business world. In addition to English, one-semester courses in creative writing and advanced composition. Highlands offers three foreign languages: Latin, Spanish and French.

This year four years of French were offered, while two years of Spanish and Latin were available. There is also a language laboratory which helps students learn to read and speak.

Educational TV Viewed by Seventh Graders

For the first time all seventh graders were taught Kentucky History with the help of educational television. They viewed a twenty minute program called "Kentucky is My Land" once a week. The same session was shown several times a week so that the teacher could use it to introduce a unit or review it. Eighth graders took American history and freshmen and sophomores were offered world geography and world history. Juniors were required to take American history and at the senior level American government was offered.

In Business Education there were several changes made. The department acquired new rooms for classes giving students a chance for individual work. The department also gained two new teachers. Some of the many courses offered were shorthand, typing I and II, personal typing, office practice and bookkeeping. Business courses in law, economics, English, and math were also offered. A new course, Introduction to Business, was started this year and offered to freshmen and sophomores. Seniors were also offered a twenty hour night course in data processing.

Variety Show Is Dominant Theme of Fine Arts Department

Early in the year preparations began for a project that would take place in March — the Variety Show. It affected every department from English to shop. The co-ordinator was Robert Knauf with help from John Black and Larry Wofford. Mr. Knauf directed the chorus while John Black directed the stage band, and Larry Wofford prepared the set.

Honeggers' "Christmas Cantada" was performed with the Northern Kentucky State chorus at music hall and at the Neighborhood Concert. The chorus also sang at the P.T.A. open house with the art department also participating with a display.

Industrial Arts Develops Manual Skills

Industrial Arts offers a variety of courses for interested students. In the ninth and tenth grades woodworking, metalworking, leather craft, and drawing are available. Juniors and seniors study general woodworking, general metalworking, and mechanical drawing. At various times during the year student handicrafts are displayed in the cafeteria.

Home Economics Goes to Team Teaching

Beverly Searcy

Mrs. Searcy waits for an answer to a question.

Four years of Home Economics are offered at Highlands. In Home Ec. I and II six areas are covered: child development, personal and family relationships, clothing and textiles, food and nutrition, home furnishings, and management and consumers economics. Each Home Ec. teacher specializes in different areas and after each unit students exchange teachers.

Home Ec. III and IV are courses which cover only two areas, clothing and food. A new course in Home Ec. for college bound students is offered and is a study of all areas of home economics in one year. The biggest project for the Home Economics Department this year was the "Make It With Wool" contest sponsored by the American Wool Council.

Vocational School Gives on-the-Job Training.

The Northern Kentucky State Vocational-Technical School in Covington is one of thirteen schools throughout the state training individuals for vocational occupations. It serves a nine county area in Northern Kentucky. The school operates as a post secondary institution as well as an integral part of the public school system. The Vocational School in each area offers a wide variety of courses broad enough in scope to provide training for the major occupational fields in which the residents of the area are engaged. The students spend much of their time at practical work in their respective shops and laboratories. When graduated, they will have acquired skill in and be familiar with industrial processes and practices. This year Highlands has nine juniors and seniors who attend Vocational School. They go to Highlands in the morning and leave at noon for the Vocational School where they stay until 3:30 p. m.

Vocational School facilities are located in Covington, Kentucky.

The world turning on its axis, constituting night and day and the passage of time was our worst enemy as we pushed to make our prom a great success. The weekend slumber parties, where we slap-happily worked to the wee hours of the morning making chains upon chains of flowers, props and writing invitations, the hassels we went through, and the countless other unselfish hours given here and there by energetic, united Seniors all contributed to make our Junior-Senior Prom indeed, "A Prom For All Seasons" — an unforgettable experience.

Miller, Fuldner, and Druck Led Team

The 1971-1972 varsity basketball team was led to its 23-5 record by three members, Doug Miller, Dave Druck, and Tom Fuldner. Miller was the team's leading rebounder with 153 points. Druck led all scorers with 557 points. His highest game total was 49 against Holy Cross. These totals gave him a 19.9 post per game average. Fuldner had the best field goal percentage with a 46 percent average. Tom also had the team's best free throw percentage, scoring an 81 percent average for the year.

Dale scores two against Campbell Co.

This year's reserve basketball team traveled to a 12-11 record. The team was coached by Mr. Kopich. The most exciting game was against Saint Thomas when we were down by 10 points at the half and won by one point. Gary Schrader scored approximately twenty points per game. His best game was against Newport where he scored thirty two points. Jerry Wright was this year's best rebounder. He averaged fifteen rebounds per game. Bob Riesenbeck was voted the best defensive player. One other noteworthy feature of the season was that an average of twelve players played per game. This was a factor in giving a lot of boys valuable experience.

Basketball Team Posts 23-5 Record

The varsity basketball team posted a 23-5 record this year. Under the guidance of Coach Thomas Russell, the team scored a major victory in the conference play-offs. During the Christmas holidays, the team participated in the Newport Catholic Invitational Tournament. Highlands lost the first game against Holy Cross but came back in the consolation finals beating Newport. This was the first year Mr. Russell served as head coach, succeeding Mr. James Bradbury.

As the space program progresses through each stage, new aims and goals are set for its future. Similarly, each class and its members adjust their goals for the coming year. The graduating class members set new individual goals and look forward to further education and service in the world of which they are a part.
